Peace Leader's Scholarship

General Conditions

- Essays will not be returned. Entrants should maintain a copy of their submissions.
- Pacific Buddhist Academy assumes no responsibility for entries that are lost, incomplete, misdirected, illegible, or late for failed computer transmission, technical failures or any other reason.
- Pacific Buddhist Academy reserves the right, in its discretion, to reject submissions that it believes are unlawful, libelous, or would be detrimental to the reputation of PBA.
- Essays with profanity, obscenity, vulgarity, or anything else which overrides the general norms of civility will not be eligible for prizes.
- Entry must comply with all contest rules to be eligible for a prize. Pacific Buddhist Academy reserves the right to not award any prizes.
- Winning submissions will be selected by a panel of judges named by Pacific Buddhist Academy. The judges will evaluate entries using the following criteria: exploration of theme, impact on reader, originality, literacy and message. Judges' decisions are final.
- Prize winners must remain in good academic and social standing to retain prize offer. Pacific Buddhist Academy reserves the right to terminate the award of a student who falls into academic and/or disciplinary probation. For definitions of probationary terms please contact PBA to acquire a copy of the Student Code of Conduct.
